

Recruiting at Rutgers Business School: Undergraduate Newark

At RBS: Undergraduate Newark your recruiting efforts are guaranteed to reach our business school population through the collaborative endeavors of the RBS Dean of Students Office and the R-N Career Development Center.

Ways to Recruit:

On-Campus Career Fairs

RBS: Undergraduate Newark hosts a Rutgers Business School Career Fair in conjunction with the Rutgers-Newark Career Development Center. Employers will find this a great resource for identifying RBS Newark undergraduate business students for both internships as well as entry-level professional positions. It is also a great way to enhance your campus visibility and to supplement your other on-campus recruiting endeavors in a friendly and informal setting.

The Rutgers Business School Career Fair will be held on October 14, 2009 from 12:30 to 5:00 pm, on the Newark Campus. Advance registration required. There is a non-refundable registration fee of $450 per table/employer. Click here to register.

Corporate Presentations

Are you looking to inform business students about your organization? Whether you are looking to sell your organization's rotational program or giving students career insight, RBS invites your organization on-campus to serve as a guest speaker. Don't fret over the details; either our Career Management Specialist or elite Business Clubs will handle the logistics for you.

On-and-Off Campus Interviews

R-U ready to start interviewing? Contact us regarding your availability to interview and we will arrange your interview schedule(s) in conjunction with the R-N Career Development Center. We make it our priority to contact students, promote your opportunities, and arrange interview schedules in a way that will make your day on campus a productive one. Your interviews will take place within the comfortable confines of the R-N Career Development Center.

Free Online Job Postings

Take advantage of eRecruiting, a web-based internship and employment posting software supported by the R-N Career Development Center. This system provides you with access to both current RBS undergraduates as well as alumni. Or, if you prefer, just forward a detailed job description to one of our career-management experts, and we will do the rest.
