

IMA BIOLOGIST

123 Main Street
Newark, NJ 07102
(973) 123-4567
iwanna@rutgers.edu

OBJECTIVE

A professional position utilizing Biology education, research abilities, and laboratory skills in a pharmaceutical company

EDUCATION

RUTGERS UNIVERSITY, Newark, NJ
Ph.D., Biology, Expected Graduation May 2015
Bachelor of Arts, Biology, May 2009

HONORS/FELLOWSHIPS

Presidential Fellowship, 2012
Dean's List, All eight (8) semesters, NYU

LABORATORY SKILLS

- DNA sequencing
- HPLC
- Spectrometer
- Protein gel isolation

WORK EXPERIENCE

Intern 2010-2011
Novartis, East Hanover, NJ

- Assisted with research on DNA sequencing

RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

Laboratory Assistant, Biology Department 2012-Present
NJIT, Newark, NJ

- Conduct experiments and analyze data

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

Teaching Assistant, Biology Department 2011-2013
Rutgers University, Newark, NJ

- Taught Biology Laboratory class to undergraduate students

PUBLICATIONS

Biologist, I. and Smith, J. 2012. The ABC's of DNA Sequencing. Journal of Biology. June 2013; 1(2): 3-10.

PRESENTATIONS

Biologist, I. and Smith, J. “The ABC’s of DNA Sequencing.” Poster presented at: 2nd Annual Conference for Biologists; September 2013; New York, NY.

ACTIVITIES AND MEMBERSHIPS

Member, American Society for Cell Biology, 2010-Present

Volunteer, Greater Newark Conservancy, 2012

Volunteer, American Red Cross, Rutgers University, 2010-2011

COMPUTER SKILLS

Proficient in Microsoft Word, Excel, PowerPoint, and Access

Familiar with eDNA and GGobi

REFERENCES FURNISHED UPON REQUEST